

TITLE

SUMMARY OF ENVIRONMENTAL CONDITIONS

Naval Weapons Station
Seal Beach Detachment Concord
Concord, California

LEGEND

- Endangered, Threatened, and Other Sensitive Species (INRMP/University of Arizona)
- Endangered, Threatened, and Other Sensitive Species (CNDDDB)
- California Red-Legged Frog Known Occurrence Area (CNDDDB)
- Burrowing Owl Known Occurrence Area (CNDDDB)
- California Tiger Salamander Known Occurrence Area (CNDDDB)
- Potential Tiger Salamander Upland Habitat (City of Concord)
- Wetland
- Solid Waste Management Unit in Installation Restoration Program
- Active Installation Restoration Sites
- No Further Action and Transferred Installation Restoration Sites
- Potential MEC Areas of Concern
- Concord Fault
- Clayton Fault
- An area inundated by 100 year flooding for which no BFEs have been established

Slope Percent (%)

- 15 - 30
- Greater than 30

Archaeological Potential

- High
- Moderate

Liquefaction Potential

- Very High
- High

Base Map

- Major Cities
- Streams and Creeks
- Freeway
- Major Road
- Local Road

Special Status Species

- ① --- California Red-legged Frog
- ② --- California Tiger Salamander
- ③ --- Loggerhead Shrike
- ④ --- Suisun Song Sparrow
- ⑤ --- Golden Eagle
- ⑥ --- Burrowing Owls
- ⑦ --- Northern Harrier
- ⑧ --- Northwestern Pond Turtle
- ⑨ --- California Horned Lark
- ⑩ --- Cooper's Hawk
- ⑪ --- Yellow Warbler

NOTES & SOURCES

Coordinate System: Stateplane, California III
NAD 83, feet

Data Sources: NAVWPNSTA Seal Beach Det Concord GIS
Concord INRMP (Tetra Tech 2002),
Concord ICRMP (2002),
City of Concord (2006), CDM (2003),
Department of Fish & Games (CNDDDB 2005), DoN (1999)

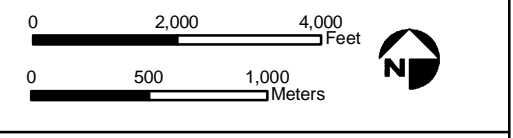

FIGURE
4-16